

Haryana to establish farmers' welfare department

TSN/Chandigarh
Haryana will establish a farmers' welfare department to make agriculture remunerative, enhance productivity and mitigate the distress of farm households and landless workers, Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar said on Tuesday.

Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar made the announcement of establishing 'Haryana Kisan Kalyan Pradhikaran' while interacting with farmers during the 'Ek Aur Sudhar' programme organised here

The Chief Minister would be the chairperson of the Haryana Kisan Kalyan Pradhikaran, while the Agriculture and Farmers Welfare Minister would be the ex-officio vice-chairman, the release added.

The department will undertake all possible measures to make agriculture remunerative and enhance agricultural productivity to mitigate the physical, financial and psychological distress of farm households and landless workers. It will also maintain close liaison with line departments for implementation and monitoring of schemes, programmes and projects thorough the Agriculture Advisory Council and issue necessary guidelines from time to time, it said.

Khattar made the announcement of establishing 'Haryana Kisan Kalyan Pradhikaran' while interacting with farmers during the 'Ek Aur Sudhar' programme organised here.

State Agriculture Minister O P Dhankar and Minister of State for Food, Civil Supplies and Consumer Affairs Karan Dev Kamboj were also present on the occasion, an official release said. The chief minister said that the state government is sensitive to the condition of the farmers and decided to establish the 'Haryana Kisan Kalyan Pradhikaran' to provide relief to farm households.

Recently, he had announced rolling out one reform every month and in the same series, it has been decided to establish the department, he added.

Haryana's mobile app to help public complain about unclean surroundings

Chandigarh
The Haryana government has launched a mobile app in urban areas to enable residents to complain about unclean surroundings and suitable action thereafter by local authorities.

The mobile app service has been launched under the Swachh Bharat Mission to address cleanliness issues in areas falling under all Municipal Corporations, Municipalities and Municipal Committees in Haryana.

"If you are residing in any urban area of Haryana and find your surroundings unclean or littered with garbage, click a picture and post it directly on the Swachh Map mobile application, and you will get your complaint redressed in a fixed time period," a state government spokesman said on Tuesday.

JD Institute of Fashion Technology officially launched Rina Dhaka as the "Mentor" for the student designers of JD Institute of Fashion Technology. The event witnessed the association of two eminent personalities in the field of design Ms. Rina Dhaka who is an Iconic Indian designer and Ms. Rupal Dalal who has been a pioneer in the field of design education.

Rina Dhaka, a dynamic fashion designer is successfully delivering fashionable styles for the past two decades now. Her clients include Naomi Campbell, Martha Marzotto, Uma Thurman, Tara Palmer Tomlinson, Vittorio Radice, to name a few. BBC did a story about India's new faces. They chose her over the entire fashion fraternity in India and referred to her as the Gaultier of the East.

With an aim to share her expertise, Rina Dhaka is taking her years of experience in the field of design industry to JD Institute and channelling it to teach the new age designers. The ace designer will be actively involved with the academics and will work closely with the juniors for their final collection. Her student interactions will feature various experiences in design, market intelligence, retail and business of fashion.

Apart from mentoring, the fashion expert also plans to select student designers on the basis of talent, vision, hard work and creativity and create a core group who will present the collections at The Fashion Awards, New Delhi. Executive Director of JD Institute of Fashion Technology, Ms. Rupal Dalal said having Ms Rina Dhaka was a great way to boost the learning and the exposure of juniors. "We wanted to raise the bar for student designers and give them an experience of live projects, while also enabling them to share rare experiences of one of India's most eminent designers," she said.

The people are anger with the incident of gym owner-cum-trainer Jitendra Yadav's alleged fake 'encounter' by a trainee sub-inspector of police at Parthala Khanjarpur on Saturday. In view of expressing their anger and asking for the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) inquiry in this case, they held a foot march on Tuesday in Noida.

The family members of injured Jitendra and his supporters took foot march from Fortis Hospital on Tuesday. The people involved in the foot march were having placards in their hands. There were slogans like 'Yogi Government wake up', 'Stop fake encounters' and 'Suspend the entire station' on this matter. The foot march started from Noida Fortis Hospital and ended at the hospital premises after going through Sector - 62.

Devendra Singh Avana, general secretary of Socialist Labor Party and secretary Hiralal who were accompanied with this foot march said that when security personnel of the police department responsible for the safety become fatal then it's common to raise questions on the police administration.

Shrutikant Sharma, Narendra Sharma, Rajab Khan, Ashok Pradhan including numbers of people were present during this foot march on Tuesday.

Bollywood actor Rajpal Yadav said that when police is accused and the police are investigating this matter then changes of doubt can't be denied. That's why this matter should be referred to the CBI health condition. The actor demanded a Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) inquiry into the matter.

Interacting with media, Rajpal Yadav said that this is very pathetic and wrong. We are free citizen of the Independent country. The government is responsible for the security of the citi-

While replying to a question, actor Rajpal Yadav said that the cinema is the mirror of this society and whatever happens in the society is seen in cinema also. But good things are also seen in cinema. So, it is not right to blame cinema that people are committing crimes due to watching movies.

There is greater difference in real life and reel life.

It depends on our nature and sentiments that what we see in cinema and what we learn from watching cinema.

Inmates of Gujjar, Bakerwal hostels from Jammu meet Rajnath

TSN/New Delhi

A group of 50 school children consisting of 25 girls and 25 boys of nomadic Gujjar and Bakerwal community of distant mountainous Jammu region called on Union Home Minister, Shri Rajnath Singh here today. The students are on a Bharat Darshan Tour from 1st to 11th Feb 2018, organized by the BSF.

The children shared their experience of visits to different historical places and thanked the BSF and the government for organizing tours of this nature. These children are selected for Bharat Darshan as a part of intensive civic action programme of the Force in remote and backward areas of the border. This tour is conducted to give them insights into the rich historical, cultural and social profile of the country and the progress made in industrial, Technological and scientific fields. The tour also aims at inculcating in them a sense of pride for the nation.

As part of the programme, they visited Amber Fort, Albert Hall Museum, Jaigarh Fort, Jantar Mantar and City Palace in Jaipur, Fatehpur Sikri, Taj Mahal and Agra Fort in Agra, Qutub Minar, Lotus Temple, Rashtrapati Bhavan and enjoyed Metro Ride at New Delhi.

After visiting Delhi historical places, all the children will proceed to Amritsar where they will witness the Retreat Ceremony at Attari Border and also visit the historical places of Amritsar. Thereafter children will back to their homes.

This is a new initiative of outreach to these communities hailing from Poonch and Rajouri (Jammu & Kashmir) which is in extension of already existing Bharat Darshan Tours for the children from Jammu & Kashmir.
